Dear TIOPA Members,

One of our TIOPA Community Sponsors, Evexipel, has provided TIOPA members a link to view the Webinar conducted last Thursday evening. Evexipel is a medical training company and we greatly appreciate their outreach efforts on this subject.

They are joined by Stanford researcher and instructor Dr. Michal (Mikki) Tal.

Dr. Tal received her PhD at Yale University in Immunobiology under the mentorship of Akiko Iwasaki. Dr Tal then did her postdoctoral training in the laboratory of Irving Weissman at Stanford where she is currently an instructor leading the infectious disease team and studying the immunomodulatory mechanisms which impact immune clearance of pathogens and host pathology.

Click Here to join this important informational webinar for medical personnel where the important "Big Questions" of the COVID-19 pandemic will be answered.

We appreciate everyone's efforts in combating this pandemic.

Sincerely,
Ginger Lento
